

are proud to introduce the

Foundations in ICAMH: Infant, Child, Youth and Whānau Mental Health Training Package

Foundations in ICAMH: Infant, Child, Youth and Whānau Mental Health is an online training course providing foundation learning on infant, child, youth mental health and how to work with their whānau. It is designed to enhance the skills and knowledge of the ICAMH, NGO and Primary workforce. The online learning is free and accessible at <https://werryworkforce.org/elearning>

A face to face training package has been developed to be used by services to enhance the skills and knowledge of their staff on infant, child and youth mental health and AOD concerns. It is designed to assist workers in meeting the primary and core levels of the Real Skills Plus ICAMH/ AOD Competency Framework and can be used to complement orientation training and ongoing professional development.

Werry Workforce Whāraurau has developed a ‘train the trainers’ model, and is asking teams and services to identify and support dedicated trainers who have the skills and knowledge to offer the training regularly to internal staff, and also to external agencies by agreement.

Werry Workforce Whāraurau will support trainers in developing and delivering the workshops.

We have a Train the Trainer Day planned for Tuesday 11th June 2019, in Wellington

To register, please visit:

<https://werryworkforce.org/professionals/training-and-events/20190611-Foundations-Training>

Enquiries to Bronwyn Pagey: b.pagey@auckland.ac.nz